WOMEN'S CLUBS ARE IN A TANGLE Attorney Writes Regarding Re-

PROBLEM OF RAISING MONEY MAY MAKE TROUBLE.

Members of the various women's clubs throughout the state are in considerable of a stew over proposed legislation regarding kindergartens and the domestic science department of the federation, asking the various component clubs to give their support to a bill to appropriate $30,000 for a domestic science building at the university. There is a disposition on the part of many of the federation members to blame Mrs. C. E. Coulter, president of the federation and also a member of the legislature, and Mrs. Bichsell for these letters on the ground that for these letters, on the ground that they are contrary to the decision of the federation. The Ladies' Literary club at its latest meeting at first refused to endorse the domestic science bill for that reason, but later reconsidered and gave an endorsement.

Fear Asking Too Much.

Fear Asking Too Much.

The women who opposed the endorsement are all anxious for a domestic science building, but they are afraid they will be asking too much, and will therefore fail. President W. J. Kerr of the Agricultural college is said to be fighting the university domestic science school, and these women fear he will defeat any appropriation whatever if $40,000 is asked. They favor asking only $4,000, the amount granted two years ago, to keep up the work already started, and bending every possible effort toward the passage of the kindergarten bill.

Obstacle to the Bill.

The greatest obstacle to the passage of the bill at present seems to be the question of raising the money. Some persons object to a special tax. If there is no provision for a special tax, principals and teachers and others will fight the measure because they fear taking any large amount from the port Submitted by the W. C. T. U. Vice Committee.

WHAT STEPHENS SAID

Salt Lake City, Jan. 26, 1903.
City Editor of The Heraid: Dear Sir—When you called me up last evening in regard to the report of the committee on conditions of vice in the city you misunderstood what I said with reference to Mr. Hansen of the News.

News.

I did not intend to be understood as saying that Mr. Hansen wrote the entire report. It was prepared by Mr. Hansen and myself jointly as a subcommittee, and I concurred fully in the domestic science department of the university.

The Utah Federation of Women's Clubs decided some time ago that it would be folly to advocate too many measures, and that the best way would be to concentrate all efforts on one reform of importance. The kindergarten bill, making the establishment of kindergartens compulsory in all cities and towns over a certain size, was selected as the one most needed, and it was agreed to drop all other proposed legislation and work for this bill. A committee, made up from representatives of the Utah federation, the State Kindergarten association and the Mothers' congress, was appointed to work for such a bill.

Recently, however, letters have been sent out by Mrs. Edward Bichsell of Ogden, corresponding secretary of the federation, asking the various component clubs to give their support to a bill to appropriate $30,0000 for a domes-when Mr. Stephens was talking to The Herald the telephone was in good working order; everything he said was distinctly understood and he was quot-ed correctly. In his letter, Mr. Steph-ens refers to what he meant to say. The Herald did not quote him as hav-ing said what he meant to say, but it did quote him as having said what he did say.

The fact remains, and is not disputed, that the report was written by members of the committee who made no personal investigation of the conditions existing in Victoria alley.

Mr. Stephens does an injustice to Mr. White, the special officer on duty in that part of the city at night. Mr. Simpkin says he reported to the committee that he had been informed by Mr. White that one of the women in the alley had declared to him boys had visited her in her den, although he had frequently seen boys in the alley.

ley. It may be truthfully said that Mr. White's desire to better conditions in Victoria alley is apparently more sincere than that manifested by some members of the committee. He has no official power to act in such matters but has frequently expressed his indignation at conditions in that hothed of vice and crime. When murder was resorted to he was vigorous in his denunciation of such a state of affairs, and he was in a measure responsible for the agitation that was begun. Any fair minded person would be at once convinced of Mr. White's sincerity by a brief conversation on the subject with him.

A meeting of principals, teachers, parents and interested citizens was held yester lay afternoon in the office of City Superintendent of Schools D. H. Christensen to discuss the kindergarten bill and other legislation affecting the schools. It was voted to favor the kindergarten bill only on condition that a special tax levy was provided for.

A committee to look after prospective legislation was appointed. The members are Joseph Lippman, J. D. Spencer, Mrs. H. S. Young J. O. Cross, D. W. Parratt, Oscar Van Cott, Miss Etta Powers, Mrs. Smith, State Superintendent A. C. Nelson and City Superintendent D. H. Christensen.

Council Holds Up Telephone Company Bill For $10.30.

A bill for $10.30 from the telephone company was held up last evening by the council, and a committee of three. Councillann Daveler, chairman: President Cottell and Councillman Tuddenham. Was appointed to investigate it. It was for tolls contracted by persons who call up the department to notify it of a fire. Councillman Daveler contended it was not right, fair or proper for the company to impose such a tax upon the city, and asked that it be referred to a special committee with a view of either disallowing it or entering into an agreement with the company whereby the city should not hereafter be put to that expense every few months.

To prevent them in the future the council is requested by a largely signed petition to change the course of the road to the other side of the springs. Referred to the committee on streets.

City Attorney Nye reported to the council that Charles F. Mitchell and wife are willing to compromise with the city for $1,000. They sustained injuries by the overturning of their buggy in an open excavation on West Temple street and put in a claim for $2,550. The matter was referred to the committee on claims.

Marian, in "The Unwelcome Mrs. Hatch." is far and away the best offering Miss Florence Roberts has placed before Salt Lake's theatre-goers. "Zaza" and "Sapño" are great plays, but they counterfeit a life that is unreal some-how. Of course the scenes and incidents in them might have happened. Perhaps somewhere, sometime, they did happen, but those who saw the production could not help feeling that Zaza and Sapho were women of a planet other than their own.

were women of a planet other than their own.

On the other hand, you know that the story of "The Unwelcome Mirs. Hatch" must have been played through and through in somebody's existence. The part of a woman cruelly wronged, a mother with a heart consumed by mother love for a daughter she has not been permitted to see for years, fitted Miss Roberts admirably. A finer bit of repressed emotional acting than that in the third act, where Marlan assists in arraying her daughter in her wedding gown without disclosing her identity, has rarely been seen in Sait Lake.

Miss Myrtle Chapman had the part of Gladys Lorimer, daughter of Marian. She made a most attractive sweetheart and bride. Miss Georgie Woodthorpe made a distinct hit as Agnes, an old nurse. Indeed, when she was on the stage she shared the honors with the star.

Julius McVicker appeared as Jack Adrian, Myrtle's lover. He was natural and acceptable. As Richard Lorimer. Howard Scott made a thoroughly detestable villain and that is paying a high tribute to his exceptionally good work. Lucius Henderson, as Paul Trevor, ddn't have many very good opportunities, but he made the most of them.

very good opportunities, but he made the most of them.

The second act was enlivened by the introduction of a score or more of Salt Lake boys and girls in a Central park, New York, scene. The pity about "The Unwelcome Mrs. Hatch" is that it ends badly. That is, in the moment of a joyful reunion with her daughter and the man who has loved her and whom she loves, Marian dies.

The same bill will be presented by Miss Roberts tonight. The engagement closes with two presentations of "Magda" tomorrow afternoon and evening.

morrow afternoon and evening.

The rain did not keep a good-sized audieace from seeing the first presentation of "The Burgiar and the Waif" at the Grand last night. The piay is one of those stirring, full-of-action melodramas that keep the interest of the spectators at the highest point from beginning to end. There are thrilling escapes and sensational rescues, the hero appears in the nick of time and the heroine is snatched from death or other disaster in most appropriate style.

"The Burgiar and the Waif" is well worth seeing. The star, Miss Inez Format, who appears as Erma, the waif, and as Na-no-nee, an Indian princess, is that rare combination, a handsome woman and talented actress. She rose splendidly to her opportunities last night and the audience was in thorough sympathy with her work. Miss Forman has surrounded herself with a capable cast.

Miss Clara Reynolds Smith as Miss Araminta, a malden with aspirations, won the hearts of the spectators with her kittenish ways, and Charles Plunkett, as Signor Bossanko, an unfortunate who encountered all kinds of trouble, was always amusing.

The company fills the first half of the week at the Grand, including the usual Wednesday mathee.

Another trip to the coast developed out

Another trip to the coast developed out of the music at last evening's concert in the tabernacle. Mrs. O. F. Peterson of 438 East Second South street held the coupon. The attendance at the second California concert was nearly double that of the last entertainment. The soloists were Alfred Best, Charles Kent and Willard Squires. Thomas Ashworth was heard in the quartte, but did not sing alone. At the last concert a full operatic score was sung. This was not done last evening, every number being a special feature.

score was sting. This was not use last evening, every number being a special feature.

The choruses, under the direction of Evan Stephens, were sung with pleasing dash and animation, and the applicate which followed these numbers sounded like a healthy rainstorm. The work of the soloists was admirable, and in his particular field each singer scored a decided hit. Kent has a dramatic style in sharp contrast to the concert voice of Willard Squires, but both made an impression. Best, the tenor, is also an effective singer and shared with the others in the encores, which were noticeably enthusiastic. Plano selections with the planola were sandwiched in between the number or two. This instrument seems a little out of place at a concert of this kind. Professor McClellan's work at the organ is always above criticism and it is always a pleasure to hear him. He brought out the best there is in the organ. After the concert, coupon No. 1.11 was drawn.

The sale of seats for the "Princess Chic" engagement, which opens at the Theatre Thursday evening, will be start-ed at the box office this morning.

This means exactly what it says—$300 buys the place. That is all that the purchaser need put into it, from first to last, interest and everything else included, How can this be? Simple enough. By paying $300, and then renting the house to a tenant, the rent will pay the remainder of the purchase price. Not a cent more than $300 need be invested. The rent having paid the balance the purchaser will then own a property worth $3,000, free and clear. What better investment can be imagined for a young man or woman? It means $10 for every $1 invested. There is no chance about it—no looking for an ore vein, or anything else. One thing is sure—McGurrin & Co. believe that and act upon it.
We do more for the borrower than old methods did.
Quick, trean, liberal loans on good property on a plan that helps both ways—helps us lend and helps you borrow, without burdening either—that is the business of McGurrin & Co., 38 W. Second South, Salt Lake City.
